JUNE & JULY 2025

The Holy Spirit as an Advocate

When I was in sixth grade, I was in an advanced mathematics class that was not going well. On top of all of the stresses and feelings that came with being in sixth grade, I was struggling mightily with algebra. I enjoyed the elegance of math when it worked—but far too often, I couldn't make it work, and so I would get frustrated and stuck. I stopped doing the work and was rapidly getting behind.

What's worse was: I was terrified of my math teacher, who was (at least at Walter Stokes Middle School) infamously harsh and demanding of his students. I had no idea how to ask for help, let alone for an extension on the work that I hadn't done.

I hid what was happening from my parents for a while, but eventually the stress escalated and we needed to come up with a plan. I remember both the fear and relief I felt when my mother told me that she would go with me to the math teacher to advocate for me. Up until that moment, my young brain thought that I had to either sink or swim all on my own. In reality, I had an advocate who could help me.

As we are approaching Pentecost, I am thinking about the Holy Spirit. In John's gospel, Jesus calls the Holy Spirit "The Advocate." You'll hear this in our gospel lessons on May 25 and June 8. These gospels come from what is called "The Farewell Discourse." In this long conversation, his disciples ask him some pointed questions which prompt him to explain that, though he is going away, he will not leave them orphaned. He promises that they will receive an Advocate, the Holy Spirit, who will guide them when he has gone away.

In the church we often think of the Holy Spirit in the way that Luke-Acts portrays her: a fiery, creative, powerful force that acts on the world. John, however, portrays the Holy Spirit as an Advocate, like a parent who goes with you when you have to face your own failures in front of a teacher who terrifies you.

And, this is not the only kind of advocacy that the Holy Spirit is up to—she is also an advocate for those who society has forgotten, disinherited, or thrown away. As we prepare for the feast of Pentecost in 2025, I find this image of the Holy Spirit both comforting and challenging.

What might it be like to face our limitations, failures, fears, or struggles knowing that God's own Spirit is our advocate? Who is the Holy Spirit advocating for in our own community?

Peace,
Maggie

Capital Campaign Team in Place!

Summer Greetings to the people of St. Paul's!

Hopefully by now you have filled out the online Capital Campaign Survey and provided us with your thoughts, priorities, and support for tackling the building and property needs we have laid out for your consideration. This information is crucial for us as we plan intensively during summer for a successful campaign to raise the funds needed to take care of our church home.

We have built a strong and capable team to tackle these ambitious goals. Nancy Schuldt and Sherry Hall will co-chair the campaign, and we have commitments from other members of the parish to lead specific teams with defined tasks that will bring us into fall ready to engage with you on this important work:

- Chuck Sundquist is leading the Hospitality Team
- Tamara Jansen is leading the Information Team
- John Pastor is leading the Inspiration Team
- Jay Austin is leading the Response Team

As always, this work is grounded in our shared vision for strengthening our mission and ministry of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, by living out our shared stewardship of our cherished building and all that it provides for our Christian life.

Sherry Hall

Racial Justice and Healing Retreat in Duluth

Please mark your calendars and save the date for a racial justice and healing retreat taking place on Saturday, September 20 at St. Andrew's by the Lake Episcopal Church. It is a joint effort between the Episcopal Church in Minnesota (ECMN) and all three Episcopal faith communities in the Duluth area: St. Andrew's by the Lake, Trinity, and, of course, St. Paul's.

Our hope is to explore Minnesota's history of racial injustice and provide tools for participants to advocate change where they live. We believe this work is essential to our faith lives. Our retreat will also have components of worship, prayer, and somatic work.

For more information please visit <https://episcopalmn.org/racial-justice-and-healing>.

Please consider joining us.

Respectfully submitted,

Angie Shambour and Beth Fait

Thank You For Asking!

Questions and Answers from the Capital Campaign Forums on May 11 and 14

1. How long can each of the projects last as is, pre-repair, i.e. roof, masonry, organ, etc.?

—The organ is in urgent need of rebuilding. We are losing notes due to the degradation of parts that control the pipes and will not be able to reliably count on the organ for our services in the next year or two. Presently of concern is the loss of bass notes more rapidly than others. Many of the pipes are not accessible by a technician unless the whole organ is removed. The boiler and elevator are both well beyond their designed service lives and need our attention. The remaining tuckpointing is less urgent than the work done on the belltower but some areas should be addressed in the next few years. The interior sanctuary work is not as time-sensitive but should be addressed as soon as possible to prevent damage from crumbling plaster to the pews and interior of the sanctuary.

2. What kind of investment should be used to grow the $465,000 that we currently have while the fund is not deployed, allowing for financial growth of what we have?

—If this is in reference to the Investment Reserve Fund, it is already invested in the Pooled Investment Fund. Funds raised in the capital campaign can be invested and earn interest until needed to cover invoicing for the proposed building projects.

3. What kind of discount or donation can the contractors or vendor companies give us?

—All contracts will be negotiated to provide the best possible pricing for quality work. We don't expect donations but will explore any possible discounting.

4. How will projects be prioritized?

—Based on the survey results and demonstrated need

5. Are all projects to be done at once or in order of priority?

—In order of priority and availability of contractors for the specific work

6. Labor being the largest aspect of any project, is there any place where parishioners can volunteer? Where could thrifty salvage, reuse, and a DIY spirit be part of this undertaking?

—Volunteers are needed during the capital campaign. However, for insurance and liability reasons, the capital projects must be completed by professional contractors.

7. Do we plan to replace all the heating system piping?

—More studies need to be completed. We will examine all possible opportunities for efficiency and site-specific alternatives.

8. Is there an efficiency comparison for the heating system? Hot water vs. steam?

—See answer above.

9. There are generally hidden surprises when projects are undertaken. What kinds of things might be lurking? How do those things fit into the picture?

—All contracts will anticipate and include contingencies for unexpected issues that may arise during the work. This is how we contracted for the belltower repairs. Any significant cost overages will be dealt with as they arise, and we will work with the Finance Committee and Vestry to determine the best solutions.

10. Will we invest the donated funds until each project can be undertaken?

—Yes, the donations will be put into the Heritage Fund within the Pooled Investment Fund and drawn on as needed.

11. What is the cost comparison of a new organ vs repairing our organ?

—A new organ is double the cost of repairing our organ.

Sherry Hall

Rummage Sale Thanks

Thanks to everyone who helped make the St. Paul's Rummage Sale a whopping success, so far we've raised over $12,600!

The sale was truly a parish-wide effort with over 40 parishioners volunteering their time and "treasures." Folks pitched in to move items into the parish hall, set up tables, sort and price items, provide fabulous food for the volunteers, warmly greet the shoppers, work at check-out, count the money, and finally pack up all the leftovers and transport them to Savers. We couldn't have done it without their support.

While the Rummage Sale was going on, there was a Bake Sale, conceived of and coordinated by Mike Maddy, in the kitchen raising money for our outreach committee. The wonderful smells of Deacon Pat's cinnamon rolls baking in the oven put smiles on a lot of faces. (Happy folks buy more from both sales.)

A special thank you goes to Jane Jarnis who donated a substantial part of her household items when she moved to Massachusetts. Thank you, Jane! Jim Sontag and his crew enabled the move from Jane's house to the Carriage House for storage, and also deserve thanks.

Of course, nothing happens at St. Paul's without benefitting from Bill and Sandy Stapp's loving care and attention. When you came down to coffee hour on Sunday, May 4, it looked as though nothing big had happened there the day before. Bill and Sandy's magic at work!

This annual sale not only raises much needed money for St. Paul's and beyond, it fosters good relations in the community, and builds friendships and ties within our St. Paul's family.

Thank you all!

Susan Anderson and Jim Sontag

The Way of Love in Our Backyard

St. Paul's has labored in shared ministry with Chum, Loaves and Fishes, Damiano Center, and more for many years as we care for our less fortunate neighbors, and it's time to share that message with our more fortunate neighbors as well. At a City Planning Commission meeting the evening of Tuesday, May 13, a discussion that lasted several hours resulted in Stepping On Up and Vineyard Church gaining unanimous approval to operate Safe Bay in Vineyard's back parking lot. It quickly became clear that a couple dozen neighbors opposing the permit were doing so from perceptions of threats that have not been realized in the two years since this program began operating at Damiano Center.

Safe Bay offers people who are homeless and living out of their vehicles a safe place to park overnight (6 pm – 8 am), access to the church for restroom and shower facilities, Wi-Fi, a place to charge their electronics and to take shelter during storm events. Many of these folks are homeless for the first time. Many are working. Many are families, including children. ALL are just looking for a good night's sleep. Right now it's legal for anyone to park and sleep on any street in Duluth, as long as the vehicles is moved every 24 hours. This is already happening every night, and we are trying to support these folks by offering a secure, staffed place to stay with access to a few basic services. Fears expressed by the neighbors present included: needles everywhere, trash in their backyards, trespass, feces, pets roaming, drawing bears to the area, noise, lights, and sexual assault. This criminalization of homelessness is rooted in fear and a lack of knowing who the people are that we serve. I volunteer for Safe Bay, and what I witness is a group of friendly, appreciative people trying to survive as they seek stable housing. We need to shift this narrative in our neighborhoods.

Join us on Friday, June 13, at 6:30 pm in the Parish Hall for a simple meal and discussion together as we watch the movie Under the Bridge: The Criminalization of Homelessness. Working together with other congregations in our neighborhood, we hope to share concerns around public safety for everyone and grow in understanding of the challenges we face as a community in light of poverty and homelessness impacting our community.

Reflections on a Year of Growth

Hello Dear Reader,

I am surprised that the end of May is already here! It's time to wrap up the cadence of regular programming and begin looking forward to putting things in place for next year. As I write this, I'm remembering all the moments that were truly joyful in the last nine months. I am delighted that there has been so much happening for the children and young people in our Church, and I feel proud to be a part of it. Some favorite memories include music with Brad, Ian and Peter, and Wendy and I cobbling through acapella songs, sitting in on confirmation classes, watching Jordan teach Godly Play lessons, and hearing kids say that they want to be at St. Paul's because their friends are there. I am reminded constantly that I am merely coordinating opportunities for positive relationships to grow, and that the kids and volunteers are the ones who are making these connections in ways that are actually meaningful. It is obvious that the young people in this congregation are dearly loved, and that is the most important thing. Thank you to all volunteers, teachers, parents, and peers who are helping to build this web!

I am going to be busy this summer! In a good way, I hope. My biggest goal is to have some fun. Our family is leaving the country for a few weeks, and I'm teaching at an Art Camp at Mesaba People's Park. Last year, I started hosting "Beach Wednesdays." I think I was on to something, but this year will be better. Beach Wednesdays this summer will be June 11, July 16, and August 27 from 5-7 pm on the beach behind St. Andrew's by the Lake. We will hopefully have access to the kitchen, bathrooms, and grill, so everyone can be more comfortable, no matter the weather. St. Andrew's is located on 28th and Minnesota Avenue on Park Point. The church smells like pine and fresh air, and is full of art. It is the quintessential small Episcopal church, and I love to visit.

Please stay tuned for more announcements targeted to families as we get into the swing of summer. There will be service opportunities, new acolytes, fun activities for young people and information about Youth Formation in the fall. I know there is some interest in ECMN Youth Camp, as well as Family Camp; I am happy to field questions about this, and invite you to check out this website: www.episcopalmn.org

Please don't be shy about asking questions, sharing ideas, or getting information if you'd like to get involved in Youth Ministry here. We are still in the building phase, and can always use more help!

I'm so glad to be here with you, and I hope you are looking forward to whatever summer has in store for you and your family.

Thank you again for a wonderful year.

Peace to you,

Sophie Gray Spehar, Faith Formation Coordinator

Livestream Ministry

As you know, St. Paul's has been livestreaming our worship services from the Church since Spring 2021, when we re-opened after the pandemic. Our livestreams have been watched by people around the world and they allow our out-of-town members and shut-ins to join us in worship from wherever they may be.

We have had a faithful crew of four volunteers who each livestream one Sunday per month. One of our volunteers is heading off to college, and one has resigned, so we truly need TWO more volunteers to learn how to livestream. It only takes a few extra minutes before the Sunday service to get prepared, and you will be all done by the end of the postlude!

Please call or email Rita in the Parish Office if you are interested in joining the livestream ministry. 218-724-3535 or office@stpaulsduluth.org

Safe Church Training

St. Paul's prioritizes safety for everyone. All volunteers who have a key to the church, or who work with children or vulnerable adults, must be trained in the Safe Church program, which is done at your own pace on your own device. To remain compliant with this program, you repeat it every three years. Several volunteers will receive emails this summer requesting that you repeat this training. Thank you! — RMR

Lake Superior Sunday Sunday, July 20, 9:45 am

St. Andrew's by the Lake Episcopal Church
2802 Minnesota Ave., Duluth

We will once again celebrate Lake Superior Sunday together with St. Andrew's by the Lake! Join us for beach church, a relaxed Eucharist on the shores of the Greatest of the Lakes. Bring a chair or blanket to sit on. Note, we will start the service at 9:45 am, which is St. Andrew's typical start time. (This allows us to time our arrival with the bridge). Carpooling from St. Paul's is encouraged. Since the beach is not accessible for folks with limited mobility, our 8:00 am service will be held at St. Paul's for anyone who cannot join us. If it rains, or conditions do not allow for beach church, we will worship in St. Andrew's sanctuary.
